

I feel that there should be definite limitations to who may control the media. No one group should be allowed to dictate the news or control a group of stations. I see the religious right and their large corporate structures taking over the news mediums and that is a very scary thought. The news is so biased. Fairness and diversity must be maintained.